tioners. Mr. Faire created a mild sensation in the corridors when he asserted with positiveness that he was utterly in ignorance of any reason why he should be asked to step down. He said:
"The announcement in court was the first knowledge I had of the intended action. In passing through the courthouse corridors this morning I heard a main remark that two of the Thaw juro's were to be excused to-day. I had no idea that the remark could include me. About three years ago, when I was connected with a brokerage concern, two detectives from the district attorney's office, who said they visited the places which sell unlisted securities, dropped in on me, asked some impertinent questions and wanted to know if I would be willing to go up to the district attorney's office any time I might be wanted. I said: 'Yes' but that was the last time I ever heard of the matter.

Mr. Campbell, the second of the excused jurors, declared'he "had too much respect for the court to give an interview." It was generally reported that Mr. Campbell had asked to be relieved. He begged to be excused when first placed on the jury.

Thaw seemed to be particularly well pleased with the selection of both Denneo and Walker, and smiled when the prosecution withdrew all penning challenges against the talesmen. As soon as Mr. Dennee said he was a Louisianan, Thaw was seen in earnest consultation with his lawyers, Mr. Walker was accepted by the defense in spite of the fact that he knew Stanford White and many of the dead architect's friends. He also had formed an opinion in the case and expressed it many times. These facts, Mr. Walker declared, however, would not prevent him rendering an entirely fair and impar-

Two Others Selected.

One new jurer has been added to the trial panel when the excuses of Faire and Campbell was announced, and a second one was subsequently secured, thus offsetting the loss of the two previously sworn jurors. When court adjourned there were nine men in the jury box and three vacant chairs. Forty-six taleamen were called before the two satisfactory jurors were obtained.

This exhausted the original panel of 200 men, aused up eighteen of the new panel of 100, summoned yesterday and in court to-day for the first time. The two new jurors in to-day were:

STOREKEEPER KNEW HIM

Says He Purchased Handkerchief on Friday Night-Silverman

NEW YORK, January 29.—The district attorney of Richmond county today received two letters believed to have been written by John Bell, the man suspected of the murder of Dr. Charles Townsend last Saturday. In one of them Bell wrote to his brother that he intended to committ suicide; declared that Dr. Townsend had caused life wife's death by neglect, and that he intended to have revenge. The other letter was written to Bell's sister, and is similar in contents.

The funeral of Dr. Townsend was held this afternoon at his home in Westervelt Avenue. The public was admitted to view the body, and delegations were present from the two Beards of Trade of Staten Island, the Medical Society and from several clubs.

When Morris Mord, the proprietor of a store within a block of the Townsend home, saw Bell's portirait in a newspaper, he said;

"Why, I know that man. He was in my store last Friday night. It was about a quarter past 6 that he came into the store and bought a white handker.

WILL DR. BARR BE

Two Vestrymen From Richmond Church Spent Night With Mr. Barr Talking Over Selection.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., January 29.—Will the Rev. Dr. William A. Barr. rector of St. Luke's Church, in this city., be called to Monumental Church, of Richmond, is a question which the members of St. Luke's are asking to-day.

Two vestrymen of Monumental Church spent last night with Dr. Barr. The rector himself stated to-day that they were here to get his advice as to the securing of a rector for Monumental, and that he did not think that he would be called to the church.

Dr. Barr was once before rector of Monumental.

Indicated by his questioning of this talesman that there may be more than one excuse offered by Thaw for his killing of Stanford White.

"Would you object to two or more defenses?" inquired the prisoner's counsel.

"No," replied Popper.

After a consultation among the defendant's attorneys, the peremptory challenge was entered.

Only one of the State's allenists was in court to-day, Dr. Auston Flint. His associates, Dr. McDonald and Dr. Mabon, have hitherto attended every seession of the court and have scrutinized the sefendant E. Mollineux, was an interested spectator of to-day.

Farlow S. Weeks, one of the lawyers who denfended Roland B. Mollineux, serutinized the sefendant closely.

The above dispatch was read by a number of members of the vestry said that the and been no meeting of the vestry said that the two appointed to look for a pastor, and that no call or offer of a call had been extended by the church to any one. In fact, this member of the vestry stated that, atthough it was now generally understood from the press, dispatches that Dr. Evans would accept the call to Birmingham, Ala, still the vestry had nor vestry dispatch weak, probably on Saturday, and vill no doubt be ready to sanctuce his plans at that time.

The original jury panel was exhausted when the twenty-eighth talosman was examined to-day. The last of the list was lienry Peacock, who a member of the vestry had seent Sun-day in Norfolk, and that while he did not know of it of his new knowledge, it was entirely reasonable to suppose that the genteman visiting in Norfolk had con-suited with his old pastor, Dr. Barr, as to the fuure of Monumental.

Cassell, who has been general manager of the commissary department of the Quigley Furniture Company for several years, and J. Frank Griffita, an attorney of Honaker, Va., are in town lo-night, on their way to Asbury, Va., where the company now has it office and works, looking into the matter.

No cause whatever has so far been assigned for the unaccountable conduct of Mr. Harrison. It is understood here that his domestic relations were pleasant and happy. His wife, who passed down the Clinch Valley this morning on her way from Bluefield to her home in Russell county, could assign no reason whatever for the strange conduct of the husband. Mr. Harrison's home is in New York.
